Instructional Seminars

- ▶ “How To” Skills
- ▶ critical and creative development skills
- ▶ varied topics
- ▶ interdisciplinary
- ▶ based on student interest

[the center for interdisciplinary studies:
for those who occupy the middle]

Goals for Instructional Seminars

- ▶ Increase student knowledge
- ▶ Elicit advanced levels of thinking
- ▶ Develop mental processes and operations
- ▶ Develop advanced level problem-solving
- ▶ Develop task commitment
- ▶ Develop interpersonal skills
- ▶ Develop self-directed learning

Seminars

- ▶ The seminars offered are based on student interest and enrollment.
- ▶ Some are offered quarterly and some are year long.
- ▶ Some are more demanding and require work to be done outside of school. Yes, that means HOMework!!!

When Do Seminars Meet?

- ▶ First, it depends on the seminar. Most seminars meet at least twice a month
- ▶ Students are compacted out of classes to participate in seminars.
- ▶ The meeting times are rotated through all 7 blocks so that not one class is impacted too much.
- ▶ Students will be given monthly calendars that are to be used as a pass.

Application Process

- ▶ In order to be considered for a seminar, you must complete the application, get a parent signature and turn it in by the due date.
- ▶ Some seminars are very popular, limited in size, and meet per quarter so as many students as possible can participate.

When and Where do I go?

Take an application for a seminar, fill it out and return it to Mrs. Spillman.

You can pick up an application before home room, before or after lunch.

Even ask your teacher if you can go to the GT room. Room 22, right off of the media center.

Let an enrichment activity be part of your goals this year
